

Initiation ceremony at the newly built pyramid near Banaswadi Railway Station, Bengaluru

Sunday 15. March 2009, 16:00

The grand opening includes a free meal for everybody.

The Swiss artist Marc Lee has built a pyramid for meditation and resting with the help of local people. The pyramid is made of recycled material and completely covered by shiny plastic waste, murmuring in the wind and providing shadow.

From the 16. March 2009 onwards there will be daily meditation classes for 1 hour starting at 7am and 6pm for everybody for free.

Initiation ceremony at the newly built pyramid near Banaswadi Railway Station, Bengaluru

Sunday 15. March 2009, 16:00

The grand opening includes a free meal for everybody.

The Swiss artist Marc Lee has built a pyramid for meditation and resting with the help of local people. The pyramid is made of recycled material and completely covered by shiny plastic waste, murmuring in the wind and providing shadow.

From the 16. March 2009 onwards there will be daily meditation classes for 1 hour starting at 7am and 6pm for everybody for free.

Initiation ceremony at the newly built pyramid near Banaswadi Railway Station, Bengaluru

Sunday 15. March 2009, 16:00

The grand opening includes a free meal for everybody.

The Swiss artist Marc Lee has built a pyramid for meditation and resting with the help of local people. The pyramid is made of recycled material and completely covered by shiny plastic waste, murmuring in the wind and providing shadow.

From the 16. March 2009 onwards there will be daily meditation classes for 1 hour starting at 7am and 6pm for everybody for free.

Initiation ceremony at the newly built pyramid near Banaswadi Railway Station, Bengaluru

Sunday 15. March 2009, 16:00

The grand opening includes a free meal for everybody.

The Swiss artist Marc Lee has built a pyramid for meditation and resting with the help of local people. The pyramid is made of recycled material and completely covered by shiny plastic waste, murmuring in the wind and providing shadow.

From the 16. March 2009 onwards there will be daily meditation classes for 1 hour starting at 7am and 6pm for everybody for free.

